

There's two advantages in making our goods ourselves.

Firstly, it saves the middleman's profit—secondly, we run no risk of selling you poor-fitting or wrongly-made garments.

Our experimenting days are past—what we show you now is the result of "being at it for thirty years."

Year in and year out "Eiseman-made" garments are uniformly good and proper—you don't take the chance of getting an incompetent manufacturer's product here.

$10 buys the sort of suits and overcoats here that $20 does elsewhere. About 25 styles of each in the $10 grade—all finished in characteristic "Eiseman style."

Yellow Jack Flying Before the Approach of Winter.

BREAKING UP QUARANTINES

Rejoicing Throughout the South Over the Check to the Plague—Expected That by November 10 There Will Be a General Resumption of Business.

New Orleans, Nov. 4.—The appearance of frost in the country around New Orleans and in some cases of ice, has suddenly, dispirited much of the yellow fever scare in the South. Most of the quarantines have been abandoned or modified in the last two days, and those houses that have not done so have given notice that they will do so by November 10. By that time it is believed there will be a general resumption of business, even should some sporadic cases of yellow fever be reported.

Frost was reported yesterday morning throughout the South-east. In some places in Louisiana the thermometer registered 36 degrees and in North Louisiana, 32. The thermometer in New Orleans, however, registered a minimum of 53 1/2.

The weather chief explained this by saying that the weather was changing, and that the temperature was rising. He said that the weather was changing, and that the temperature was rising.

WRECK ON THE C. AND O.

stand, to the effect that the roadbed is bad and the wreck was caused by the spreading of the rails and ties. This is disproved, as we have just received a telegram from General Manager O'Brien, which states that the roadbed, track and ties are intact and in good condition at that point. What caused the disaster we have not learned, and I am consequently unable to say at present. We shall make every effort to ascertain it.

STORIES OF PASSENGERS.
Prominent Washingtonians Give Their Versions of the Accident.

The first of the survivors to step off the Southern train from Chantillyville, at 11:25 last night, was Miss Norvell, of the New York Herald. She was not excited, but she could give no story of the disaster. She was reading in the second sleeper when the crash came. She knew that the train was running rapidly to make up lost time, and it seemed to her that it was a curve and not a crash.

Mr. W. W. Blumberg, of this city, one of the official stenographers of the Senate, was on the train. He fortunately was in a rear car. He has been traveling with a special committee of which Senator Platt is chairman. Mr. Blumberg was not hurt and went immediately to render what assistance he could to the wounded. The train did not seem to be in good condition. One of the employees on the train told him, he said, that the train was in fact, been expecting such a calamity for some time. The rails were so twisted and out of shape that it indicated but little resistance from the ties after the rail spread.

Benjamin Durfee, secretary of the Congressional Joint Committee on Alcohol in the Arts, said he was only a layman in railroad matters, but the impression he had was that the wreck was due to weak track. It was a very heavy train—six coaches—was running at a rate of about fifty miles an hour. The train was a very heavy train—six coaches—was running at a rate of about fifty miles an hour.

SPIRIT OF TRUE PATRIOTS

Leaders of the Cuban Army Issue a Proclamation.

TO ALL LOVERS OF LIBERTY

They Present as an Insult "the Cowardly Suspicion" That They Would Accept Anything From Spain Save an Acknowledgment of the Independence of Cuba.

Havana, Nov. 3, via Key West, Nov. 4.—The following official document, signed by all the leaders of the Cuban army in the province of Pinar del Rio, has been delivered to me for publication in The Washington Times. The original copy will be in New York on next Sunday at the office of the Cuban delegation. The document says: To the lovers of liberty in all nations, to the people of the United States, and to the Cuban patriots abroad:

We declare as an insult "the Cowardly Suspicion" That They Would Accept Anything From Spain Save an Acknowledgment of the Independence of Cuba.

We shall never forget that Spain sent Weyler as her fittest representative to Cuba. We shall never forget the bloody crimes of the Spanish soldiers, their assassinations of aged Cuban people, of women and children, their wanton incendiarism and robberies, and all their many outrages against humanity and civilization. We do not furthermore admit that Weyler is better than Weyler, and we consider him a traitor who Cuban who desires to end negotiations with the Spaniards.

The only treaty with Spain that we will accept is that in which independence of Cuba is recognized, and that must be offered, not to us, but to the government of our republic, the only power authorized to sign a treaty for the Cuban people according to the terms of our constitution, proclaimed at Janguey on the 10th of September, 1895.

We who sign this declaration are the leaders of the different detachments of the Cuban army in Pinar del Rio, and any disclaimer that you may make if we do not sign our names to this declaration of our independence of the day of our death.
